

Forestry Commission

Across

5 - A part of the economy that is owned and managed by the government

8 - Where workers maintain or increase their knowledge and skills throughout their professional lives

9 - The tasks and responsibilities of a worker within an organisation

10 - A written plan setting out ways in which individual employees will have their training and development needs met

Down

1 - Managers who operate at a level below senior management but above supervisors and workers

2 - Training undertaken away from the workplace

3 - An award given to organisations that have met tough checks to demonstrate that they look after the needs of employees

4 - The overall purpose, providing direction for an organisation

6 - An assessment of an individual's progress at work

7 - An area of activity in which a firm is particularly strong

Possible Answers:

Investors in People, appraisal, competency, job role, middle management, mission, off the job training, personal development plan, professional development, public sector